WALSH GUILTY OF COMPLAINT MADE

UNITED STATES CIRCUIT COURT OF APPEALS PASSES ON DECISION.

THE FINDING IS SUSTAINED

Former Banker Must Go to Prison Unless Supreme Court Should Reverse This Decision.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 5.—The verdict of the trial court which found John R. Walsh guilty of misapplication of funds of the Chicago National bank, was affirmed by the United States circuit court of appeals here today. Counsel for Walsh in his appeal had stressed on what they alleged was a lack of criminal intent on the part of the defendant. The court, however, refused to take that view and the allegation that Jurer Palmer unduly influenced the jury was given scant consideration.

JOHN R. WALSH

Neither does the court of appeals find any error in the instructions given the jury by Judge Anderson in the trial court.

Under today's decision Walsh must serve the sentence of five years' imprisonment imposed upon him by the trial jury unless the supreme court reverse today's decision.

IMPORTANT FINDING OF SUPREME COURT

Supreme Court Decides Matter of Contract With Independent Telephone Companies.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—The supreme court decided in favor of the Douglas County Telephone company, upholding the independent contract for free service if the contract had been entered into before the passage of the public utility law. Judge Stevens' decision is reversed. The ratio commission had no authority to set the contract aside. The court also upheld Mayor Jones in his refusal to press the charges against Fire Chief Clancy, contending that so long as the mayor showed proper diligence in investigating the chief's conduct the matter may be left at his discretion.

The efforts of Adolph Wagner to secure reappointment in the state treasury position have met with final defeat, the court holding with Judge Stevens that Wagner was incompetent. This is a victory for State Treasurer Dahl.

LABOR MOVEMENT IS ORIGIN OF THE G. O. P.

Prof. John R. Commons, State University, Shows Connection of Dovesy, Father of Republican Party at Ripon, With Working Man's Movement.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—The origin of the republican party at Ripon, Wis., in 1835, and its connection with the workingmen's and labor movements of that day through the father of the party, Alvan E. Dovesy, is shown in an interesting manner by Professor John R. Commons of the department of political economy of the University of Wisconsin in an article on "Dovesy and the Republican Party" in the current number of the Political Science Quarterly.

Before coming to Ripon in 1850 Dovesy had been associated with the workingmen's party in New York almost since its beginning in 1814, was secretary, treasurer, and delegate to the Industrial Congress. His early views on the natural right to land appeared wherever the republican party sprang up. The workingmen were accustomed to speak of him as "the true republican party" and George Henry Evans of the Workingman's Advocate, with whom Dovesy was associated, predicted in 1846 the time when "there will be but two parties, the Great Republican Party of Progress and the Little Tory Party of Holdbacks."

CRIMINAL LAW IS TO BE DISCUSSED

University of Wisconsin Calls First State Conference on Criminology.

Madison, Wis., Oct. 5.—A conference on Wisconsin criminal law and criminology has just been called at the instance of the extension division of the University of Wisconsin and a committee of organization including a number of university professors and other citizens of the state have been invited to participate in the discussion, including all the circuit judges, prosecuting attorneys, heads of penal institutions, as well as probation officers, physicians, clergymen, educators, lawyers, alienists, and social workers. The gathering is to take place in Madison at the University of Wisconsin November 24 and 25.

Discussion of Problems.
No formal program has been arranged for the conference, but it is proposed to organize those who attend into some ten committees, to consider the problems relating to criminal procedure. The first day will be devoted to meetings of these committees, each of which will formulate a report covering the particular part of the subject which it has considered. These reports will be discussed by the entire conference during the second day.

Organize Permanent Society.
It is anticipated that the conference will result in the organization of the Wisconsin branch of the American Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, of which Prof. E. A. Ross of the department of sociology of the university is vice-president. Permanent committees will probably be appointed to report needed changes and reform in the methods of dealing with crime at the next session a year hence.

In Front Rank.
"Make Wisconsin the first state in the union in the administration of criminal justice" is the idea which those interested in the new organization are making. Already the state is among those in which the methods of dealing with crime and the criminal are distinctly good, but just as Wisconsin has led in many political reforms, it is desired that it should lead in this reform.

The executive committee on organization having in charge the work of the conference consisted of Prof. E. A. Ross of the department of sociology, chairman; Prof. E. A. Gilmore of the law school, secretary; Dean L. E. Robb of the university extension division, corresponding secretary; A. P. Menges, '86, treasurer; Dean C. H. Harbison of the school of medicine; Allen D. Conover, '74, of the State Board of Control; Rev. A. A. Ewing, of Grace Episcopal Church; District Attorney Vernon Mason, '35; Dr. C. S. Sheldon of the Wisconsin Medical Society; and Circuit Judge E. Roy Stevens, '35.

Mr. Sherman subsequent to his graduation from Hamilton College, was assistant professor of mathematics there, and a year ago accepted the position of private secretary to former Collector Fowler, of New York. Recently he resigned his position in New York to become manager of the extensive properties of the Consolidated Water Company, of Utica, in which he is interested financially.

NEW TONNAGE TAX IN EFFECT TODAY

New Duty Of Two Cents Per Ton Will Be Levied On Foreign Vessels After Today.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—Collection of the new tonnage tax of two cents per ton on foreign vessels began today. The new law provides that the tonnage duty of two cents per ton, not to exceed in the aggregate one cent per ton in any one year, be imposed at every entry on all vessels from any foreign port or place in North America, Central America, the West India islands, the Bahama islands or of six cents per ton, not to exceed 10 cents per ton per annum, be imposed at every entry on all vessels from any other foreign port, not, however, to include vessels in distress or not engaged in trade.

The new two-cent rate amounts virtually to a decrease of one cent per ton from the rates heretofore in effect. Naturally, the decreased rate will have a tendency to lower the receipts from the tonnage taxes and it is estimated by the department of Commerce and Labor that the annual income will amount to $1,050,000 per year, or more than $500,000 less than was collected annually under the old law.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

The largest gain this year is in the college of letters and sciences, in which there are 2,022 students, an increase of 327, or over 15 per cent. The college of agriculture shows again of 102 students in the long course (the enrollment this year being 308 against 206 last year). WILL MEET HERE THE NINETEENTH

ROCK RIVER IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION TO MEET IN JANESVILLE.

PLANS TO BE MADE AT ONCE

All interested in the Project Are Requested to Meet in the Parker Pen Office Tomorrow at Nine O'Clock.

Those who have taken an active interest in the Rock river improvement project and particularly those who attended the initial meeting for organization at Dixon, Ill., about a year ago, are requested to meet at the Parker Pen company office at nine o'clock tomorrow morning to make preliminary arrangements for the big meeting which is to be held here on Tuesday, October 19.

Representatives from every city along the Rock river are expected to attend the conference and after the program has been drawn up it will be necessary to raise a fund for the entertainment of from 150 to 200 visitors. The evening session will be merged with the Twilight club's opening meeting and the program will be entirely given over to the engineering experts and distinguished statesmen who are expected to be here at that time.

I. F. Edwards of Dixon, president of the association, has written to Vice President Thomas S. Nolan suggesting a program which will include addresses by W. A. Morse of Moline, originator of the movement to convert Rock river into a navigable stream, Major C. S. Riche and Col. C. W. Durham of Rock Island, Capt. L. L. Wheeler of Sterling, Senator William L. Lorimer of Chicago, and others, and invitations will doubtless be extended to Congressman Frank O. Lowden, Senators La Follette and Stephenson, Congressman Cooper, and Governor James O. Davidson.

In all likelihood Mr. Morse will be called upon for "An Argument for Dredging Rock River." It is suggested that Major Riche be asked to tell "What the Government Will Expect of the Water Power Companies and Others Along Rock River." Capt. Wheeler will be heard from on "The Feasibility and Probable Cost of the Project." Col. Durham may talk on "The Future Need of the Water-Way System," and Senator Lorimer, if he comes, will have something interesting to say on the subject of deep waterways in general.

The movement to make this stream navigable is gathering great headway in Illinois and has enlisted the active support of some of the best known and most influential men in the middle west. It is therefore up to Janesville to put on its reception here that will not be forgotten. For the interests between the business sections as many automobiles as possible and perhaps some of the river craft will be pressed into service. And those who are holding the fort in this vicinity hope that sufficient information will be disseminated and enough enthusiasm engendered at the meetings to make it a moral certainty that Janesville will be right on the map when the stream dredges begin to puff and rave. The day is coming and it depends only on the people, how soon.

MILITARY SURGEONS IN NAT'L CAPITAL

Distinguished Medical Men Of the World Discuss Healing Of Soldiers' Ills and Wounds.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Washington, D. C., Oct. 5.—Soldiers and sailors ill and wounded are to be discussed by distinguished medical men from all parts of the world at the eighteenth annual meeting of the association of Military Surgeons, which began its sessions today at the New Willard Hotel.

The attendance at the meeting includes about 150 surgeons, distinguished in the army, navy and National Guard of the various states and the United States public health and marine hospital service, as well as representatives of Great Britain, France, China and several other foreign countries.

Today was devoted to the routine business of the association. The regular program of papers, addresses and discussions will be taken up tomorrow and continued through three days. Tomorrow there will be a symposium on naval problems—the organization of the medical department and the sanitary service of the fleet under present conditions, and what organization is necessary in view of future expansion. One of the striking features of the session will be a paper by Surgeon C. P. Stokes, who commanded the Relief on the cruise around the world.

Friday will be devoted to problems concerning public health as bearing upon the army and state forces during peace and war. That part of the program will embrace a large number of papers by well known army medical officers.

Link and Pin RUSH HAS CAUSED SCARCITY OF MEN

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul

Every Engineman, Switchman and Roundhouse Employee Needed to Handle Increased Traffic.

Although the fall freight rush on the St. Paul started about two weeks later than on the other road, business is beginning to increase about a week ago, and at the present time everyone connected with the freight service is working at top speed to keep abreast of the work.

It was found yesterday that two switchengines were not able to handle the work and another engine was put on during the day. The number of extra trains on the Mineral Point and the C. and M. Divisions is increasing daily. This increase in the number of trains keeps the engines on the road almost continuously and they are put in the house only for the most necessary repairs or to have their fires drawn. Larger traffic means a larger force, but the present rush has found the Janesville shops somewhat short-handed.

In spite of the fact that enginemen have been holding firemen's jobs for some time, the need for more enginemen is not lessened and this is also true in the case of firemen and roundhouse employees. The present force finds it difficult to keep up with the work—more than once it has been necessary to call men from the shops to work all day and keep them in the shops at necessary repairs for more than half the night. It is thought that the rush will continue well up to Christmas.

Engine 808 came in on 192 last night and was put on as the third switch-engine this morning in charge of Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Tracey, who was taken from the house on account of a lack of regular men.

Engineer Jack Cornelius had the third switch-engine yesterday, but was relieved by Engineer Meade at noon and went out with a work train on the Mineral Point Division with Fireman Boehm.

Fireman Thompson, a Prairie Division man, is on the switch-engine today with Engineer Callahan.

Engine 736 was tied up in the house last night for repairs and the 730 was sent out this morning on number 20.

Fireman McLaughlin went out on 165 this morning with Engineer Meyer.

"Mystic" Haney has returned to work after laying off for a couple of weeks on account of an accident.

Engineer Tom Kennan was taken off the dog run last night and went out on an extra to Madison this morning at 11:30 with Fireman Neenan.

Engineer Bush went out on 173 this morning with Engineer Dawes in place of Fireman Boehm.

Fireman Lucht was on the dog run last night with Engineer Allen in place of Tom Kennan.

Engine 845, which has been thoroughly repaired at the Milwaukee shops, arrived in Janesville this morning and will be used in the freight service on the Mineral Point Division.

Chicago and North-Western Engineer S. O. Dudley is relieving Engineer Morton on the motor-car runs, 616, 517, 93 and 94, today.

Engineer Burch double-headed 322 to Janesville last night with engine 763, which Engineer Hueston took to Chicago at 9:35 this morning on an extra.

Switch-engine number 1170, the pet of the yards, is in the house today for repairs.

Engineer Kaufman was taken off 521 and 511 this morning and put in charge of a switch-engine. Fireman Hachshaw has his place on the accommodation.

Conductor Spencer and Engineer Dobyns have engine 537 unloading gravel about four miles north of Janesville.

Fireman Atkins, one of the new firemen, has been transferred from Janesville to Port Jervis street, Chicago.

Fireman Fleming is relieving Fireman Johnson on the motor-car runs today.

The names of two new firemen—Hess and Grantham—appeared on the extra board.

To Utilize Sugar.

If the sugar planters of the West Indies are wise they will pay more attention to fruit as a concomitant product with cane, and devote some of their idle acres to its cultivation, and also to the establishing of fruit-canning factories, the results of which have proven so profitable in the northern islands.

From every point of view the world cruise of the battleship fleet was a pronounced success, and the crowning endorsement of all has been the recent announcement of the assistant secretary of the navy that the repairs to 13 of the 16 battleships that made the voyage have been completed at a total cost to the engineering and the equipment bureaus of $90,280, or less than $4,000 per ship, says the Scientific American. Many were the predictions of trouble, damage, and even disaster, at the time of the starting of the fleet; but not one has been fulfilled. On the contrary, the benefit to the navy in the increase of its physical efficiency and the improvement of its morale has been invaluable.

TAFT SEES 'FRISCO; COMING BY FERRY

PRESIDENT MARVELS AT WONDERFUL RECOVERY FROM EARTHQUAKE.

IS GREETED IN SACRAMENTO

Chief Executive Has Busy Afternoon There, After Seeing Oakland and Berkeley—Talks to Great Crowd of People.

(San Francisco, Oct. 5.—After seeing how wonderfully San Francisco has recovered from the awful earthquake and conflagration of three and a half years ago, President William H. Taft today marveled at the sight and warmly praised the pluck, determination and energy of the people of this city.

Oakland Extends Welcome.

Mr. Taft and his party reached Oakland soon after seven o'clock this morning, and were welcomed by a reception committee and a big crowd of citizens. The visitors were taken all over Oakland and Berkeley in automobiles, and then came to San Francisco by ferry, arriving at 12:30. A dinner by ferry, then to the President, an escort of troops to the President and an immense throng of people met Mr. Taft, and escorted him through the gayly decorated streets. Then he was shown the burned district and the rebuilding that has been done there. Luncheon at the Union League club followed.

This evening the president will be the guest of honor at a magnificent banquet in the Fairmont hotel. There will be room for only 100 banquets, at $20 a plate, but several times that number applied for tickets.

Tomorrow the president leaves for the Yosemite National park, where he will spend three days. He will arrive at 11 P. M. tomorrow evening.

Sacramento Greets Taft.

Sacramento, Cal., Oct. 5.—President Taft and his party arrived in Sacramento shortly after seven o'clock last evening, and they gladly disembarked after their long ride from Portland. Gov. Gillette met the train at the station and introduced the president from the rear platform to the crowds at each large town on the run down the valley.

Takes Auto Ride.

On their arrival here the party were taken at once for an automobile trip over the city, and then to Capitol park, where Mr. Taft delivered an address to a great crowd of people. Next he was escorted to a hotel, where as the guest of the mayor he dined semi-privately with a number of the leading citizens of Sacramento. At 4:20 o'clock this morning the presidential train pulled out for Oakland.

Conservation of Resources.

The president selected for the principal feature of his speech the conservation of natural resources, in which he declared anew that before many of the Roosevelt policies of conservation can be carried into effect, confirmation and enabling legislation must be secured, and he pledged himself to use all his power to induce congress to pass the laws necessary.

Having already made a number of set speeches covering the various subjects he expects to incorporate in his annual message to congress, the president, during the rest of his tour, will discuss in more or less detail, many of the phases of the larger questions, for he believes that after all, the details count more than a mere general declaration of policy.

While to the average mind the thought of a day and night of uninterrupted travel suggests discomfort and fatigue, the 25 hours between Portland and Sacramento proved to be a period of real rest and enjoyment for the president. The only stops made on the way were at division points—stops necessary to the operation of the train. There were crowds at each of these places and the president appeared on the rear platform of his car to shake hands or to make a few informal remarks.

Views Mount Shasta.

At Dunsmuir, near the foot of Mount Shasta, one of the most magnificent snow-clad peaks in all the world, the president declared that a night of solid sleep and the bracing air of northern California has entirely "knocked out" the cold he contracted in Seattle.

Mr. Taft thoroughly enjoyed his stay on the train. He read a little, lounged about the car, played a friendly game of "bridge" with members of his party, and during the five or six hours Mount Shasta was in sight, admired that towering peak in all the changing aspects the winding railroad brought into view. Shasta was really the first of the snow mountains of the west that the president has seen on this trip.

Albert Pulitzer Suicides.

New York, Oct. 5.—A cable dispatch from Vienna tells of the suicide there of Albert Pulitzer, brother of Joseph Pulitzer, publisher of the New York World. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown and shot himself on learning that his physicians could do nothing for him. It is believed that he was in financial straits. He was the founder of the New York Morning Journal.

Fights "Dry" Is Expelled.

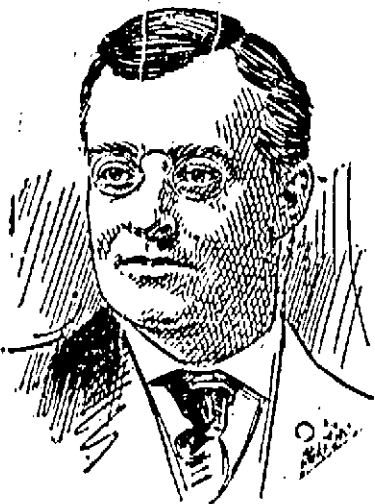

Canton, O., Oct. 5.—Members of the Stark County Ministerial federation expelled Rev. A. W. Hickey, pastor of St. Paul's Episcopal church, for his action in fighting the cause of the "dry" in the recent county saloon election.

SON OF VICE-PRESIDENT OF THE U. S. IS MARRIED

Richard U. Sherman Wedded to Ullica Society Belle—Ceremony Performed in Episcopal Church.

Ullica, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Richard Updyke Sherman, second son of the vice-president of the United States, and Miss Eleanor Miller, a society belle of Ullica, were today, in the Calvary Episcopal church, united in marriage.

Richard Updyke Sherman.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a large gathering of society people from this and other cities. Mr. Sherman is 25 years old and is professor of mathematics in Hamilton college, his father's alma mater. Like his father and brother, he is fond of outdoor sports, and is very popular socially.

GOV. HUGHES REVIEWS PARADE.

Pronounces Scene Most Beautiful of Hudson-Fulton Fete.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 5.—Poughkeepsie furnished one of the beautiful and inspiring spectacles of the Hudson-Fulton celebration when, at the conclusion of the parade, the various uniformed organizations gathered on the green in Eastman park to salute Gov. Hughes, soldiers and sailors on the left and firemen and civic organizations on the right, as the governor and his staff arrived from Yonkers and took their places on a stand facing the brilliant scene. Then down the green sward came marching a number of flag bearers, the groups typifying the spirit of 1776 and the spirit of 1909, the one the spirit of war, the other the spirit of peace. Behind them a band of several hundred musicians sounded the stirring strains of "Stars and Stripes Forever," and as the column halted in front of the stand, colors dipped, the soldiers and sailors stood at present arms and Gov. Hughes bowed his head when the music changed to "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

"It has been my good fortune to witness many beautiful scenes during this celebration," said Gov. Hughes, "but, without disparagement to the others, this is the most beautiful of all."

HUMANE SOCIETY IN SESSION.

Work for Animals and for Children Will Be Considered.

St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 5.—The thirty-third annual meeting of the American Humane association opened today in the Old Capitol on Washington street. The meeting will last three days, with sessions morning and afternoon. This evening the delegates will be given a dinner by the St. Paul society, and tomorrow evening a big public meeting will be held.

President William O. Stillman of Albany, N. Y., is presiding over the sessions.

The first half of the meeting will be devoted to the consideration of work for animals and the second half to that for children. National and state laws for the better protection of animals will be considered, as well as the latest phases of the humane crusade. Practical problems in the management of anti-rabies societies and how to make them more successful will be considered. Humane education and the connection of children with humane work will be presented. The proper care of dependent and neglected children, and the cure of juvenile delinquency will be freely discussed. Juvenile court work and probation methods will also be considered.

Land Registration Heavy.

Aberdeen, S. D., Oct. 5.—Registration at all points in the opening of the Cheyenne and Standing Rock Indian reservations for the first 16 hours indicates that this will be the greatest event of the kind in the history of the government's distribution of farm lands. Figures for the first period are as follows: Aberdeen, 3,656; Mobridge, 259; Lemmon, 282; Bismarck, 677.

Edmond Kelly Is Dead.

New York, Oct. 5.—Edmond Kelly, a distinguished lawyer who practiced alternately in this city and Paris, died of aneurysm at his home in New York, N. Y., in his fifty-ninth year. He had been in ill health for some time. It was Mr. Kelly who won Anna Gould's divorce suit against Count Roule de Castellane, and it is understood that the fee he received was $175,000.

Col. Hett Seriously Hurt.

Bridgeport, Conn., Oct. 5.—In a collision between his automobile and a heavy loaded truck, Col. N. H. Hett, the man who built the first third rail system in America, and who for many years was in charge of the electric system of the New Haven railroad, was seriously if not fatally injured.

Cucumber in Olden Times.

In Bible times the cucumber was eaten and enjoyed under the name of mandrake, while Pliny tells us of the Roman Emperor Theodosius enjoying cucumbers on his table every day. From America to Asia Minor the cucumber appears as an article of food on the various dinner and supper tables all over the civilized world.

I once read of a farmer who was in the habit of firing off his shotgun once or twice a day whether there were any crows around or not. He did this just to let them know he was alive and on the job. Many adventures might take a good lesson from the farmer the public all the time, before they know you are there, whether they want you at that particular time or not. You will then be likely to get the order when they have one.

WILLIAM E. CHANDLER, FORMERLY UNITED STATES SENATOR FROM NEW HAMPSHIRE.

According to William E. Chandler, formerly United States Senator from New Hampshire, the income tax will go in that state. He says that the state legislature will certainly vote this adoption.

Mr. Chandler is known as one of the New Hampshire radicals and he led in the defeat of a taxation bill in the last legislature because it did not go far enough. Regarding the income tax amendment he says:

"I have no doubt we will adopt it. The real reason the income tax is opposed is because the rich men don't want it. The reason given to the public will be that the power of the income taxation should be retained by the states. The truth is that both the state and the national government should possess themselves of all the powers of taxation."

"How about running for governor of New Hampshire next year?"

"No, I have said that I shall not be a candidate and I do not expect to be."

Mr. Chandler is a Harvard graduate and since his admission to the bar in 1885 has been constantly one of the political factors of the state. He entered the legislature in 1882 where he became speaker the following year. At the close of the war he entered the navy department at Washington and then became first assistant secretary of the treasury. He was made secretary of the National Republican committee during Grant's administration. In 1882 he was made secretary of the navy and was one of the organizers of the Greely relief expedition.

Mr. Chandler served in the United States senate continuously from 1887 to 1901, since which time he has been a member of the Spanish treaty claims commission until he resigned for private life two years ago.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

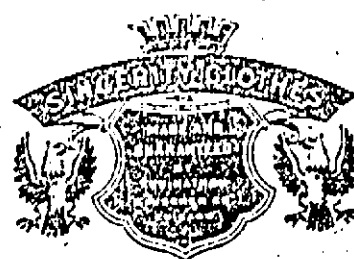

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

prevents these diseases. It makes a man's insides clean and healthy. It cleans the digestive organs, makes pure, clean blood, and cleans, healthy flesh.

It restores tone to the nervous system, and cures nervous exhaustion and prostration. It contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. Constipation is the most unclean uncleanliness. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure it. They never gripe. Easy to take as candy.

Sincerity Clothes are far above the average. But the prices aren't. We have been producing suits and overcoats with this label for thirty years—clothes that bear it will bear wear. If they fall short of expectation, we won't. That's why it's so important to find the label. It's a pledge that the tailoring is right, and that the materials are dependable. You can judge for yourself of their fit and fitness.

Only one dealer in a town sells Sincerity Clothes—the best dealer, because they're the best clothes.

THE OPPORTUNITIES

Janesville businessmen have at the present time two business propositions for their consideration, either one of which would make a most excellent industry for the city. Both will take considerably money to finance and both will mean added wealth to the city when successfully launched. In this day and age of competition it will not do for the citizens of Janesville to sit back and say, "Well, they will come anyway." This was said of several industries in the past that have settled in adjacent cities and are now among the leaders of their lines of business. The same thing was said about the North-Western railroad and Janesville waited years until the Evansville Cut-Off was built.

What Janesville needs is an association organized with a capital stock of a certain sum, which under the state laws must be all paid up. This money could be used to aid in starting industries, stock being taken in exchange for the money invested. This stock could be held by the association and all profits accruing would go into the association's treasury. Then, too, it could be sold to private investors who wanted small investments and the money thus obtained be returned to the treasury and reinvested as the opportunity came.

It would enable the association to grasp opportunities without going to the necessity of seeking individual subscriptions. While these subscriptions are being raised some other city is able to jump in and make a cash offer and Janesville loses. Of course to accomplish this the association must have a secretary and the present movement to which the citizens and businessmen are asked to subscribe to raise funds for this purpose is merely a preliminary move in the right direction.

This fund could be used not only to induce new factories to come to the city, but also to aid local concerns already in existence but whose scope is somewhat hampered by lack of capital. The money would be turned over several times a year doubtless and even outside capital brought here to take up the stock offered. It is worth considering.

SLIPSHOD LAW-MAKING

In view of President Taft's unquestionably high reputation as a jurist, it is a pity that the one new law with which his name has so far been associated should have been so crudely constructed as to render a supreme court decision against its constitutionality almost a foregone conclusion. The Wall Street Journal is not among those who believe that corporations should be held sacred from taxation, but the new corporation tax law is so badly drawn that even its friends do not know what it means.

The law was the child of political expediency, devised to meet a deficit in revenue which may quite easily have disappeared before the act comes into operation. Any careful study shows that it has been contrived with about as little regard to the facts and conditions of corporate accounting as could well be imagined. A writer in the Journal of Accountancy for September very properly asks:

"Is the government aware that there is such a thing in existence as the American Association of Public Accountants, composed of professional men of the highest skill and standing? If so, were its members consulted? If not, why not? If it were, why was their advice as to the accounting features of Section 38 not followed?"

Expert advice is not followed by congress because that body for the most part legislates by the light of nature, and is more concerned about making good political bargains than good statutes. In this case there is practically no evidence that congress utilized the available expert knowledge of tax specialists, accounting authorities, economists, or even the legislative experience of our own states in the preparation of such taxing laws.

Congress seems to be just paying for, but surely Mr. Taft knows better.

MILWAUKEE'S AMBITION

Milwaukee has just completed a magnificent public auditorium and now it seeks to induce the next republican national convention to come to Milwaukee and use it. It is a laudable ambition and one in which the entire state should unite. What benefits Milwaukee in this way benefits the whole state by exploiting its greatness. There may be many states that are older than Wisconsin, but it would be hard to find one that is really better, taking it all in all. State pride is something that should be encouraged and petty jealousies between sister cities lost sight of in the general good.

The Milwaukee Journal has undertaken another task upon itself, that of rescuing the state fair from the hands of individuals who now manage to control its policies to the detriment of the fair. Keep it up. It is good work.

Work on wrecking the state capitol for the new building shows the futility of the fire which destroyed this beautiful structure, even more than it did after the burned spots had been whitewashed over.

There is a liability that the next state warden for Rock county will be chosen from Janesville with three candidates in the field.

Thus far Governor Davidson says nothing about his being a candidate for Governor; still the public believes he will be when the time comes.

Janesville is visited by the baseball fever about the time of the year that the other cities have gotten over it. However, it is better late than never.

Texas, the country of boundless prairies, is now suffering from forest fires. "Well, Texas is big enough to have anything."

What's the matter with the state fair? seems to find ready answers in all the newspapers and defenses in all the farm journals.

The Chicago Daily News eagerly remarks that it is undoubtedly true that some homes need more babies and less bridge whist.

Mr. Taft arranged his trip well, as he will be in the south in the height of the "possum and sweet potato season."

Why worry? Indian summer is yet to come and then pumpkin pies and Thanksgiving turkeys.

New York barely gets through with its show when St. Louis breaks all out with the same disease.

Anyway Secretary Ballinger is not losing any sleep over the proposition of a water power trust.

Britain and Germany will go to war if those fifteen-cent magazines can accomplish it.

Chicago's public library had to come to Wisconsin to get a good first class librarian.

It appears to be part of the professional baseball coach's stock in trade to be a pessimist.

Mexico has captured a genuine plate vessel only it was not low and rakish.

THE POET PHILOSOPHER

By WALT MASON
(Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

I hear the plashing of the rain upon the roof, upon the pane, it murmurs at the door; it patters forth a futile boast; it whispers like a timid ghost; it streams up on the floor. And as I sit me here alone, and listen to its monotone, strange fancies come and go; I seem to see, distinct and plain, dim faces drawn upon the pane, of friends I used to know. Soft voices whisper in the rain, and friends I never shall see again, are crying bitterly; the raindrops seem to be their tears, and over the misty void of years, they're calling, calling me. O shadows from a starless shore, beyond and further on no more, and leave me here alone! I fear the voices in the rain, the voices vibrant with their pain—I fear the specters that complain, in weary monotone! But still they chide me at the door, and whisper there for evermore, and murmur in their woe; I hear them in the tempest's swell, I hear them sigh, I hear them yell: "Where is that old green umbrella, you swiped two years ago?"

PRESS COMMENT

Jefferson County Union: Leaders, who once stood for honest reform, have degenerated into mere pit fighters for political power. The sentiment of the state we believe to be overwhelmingly republican on all important issues. It will stand behind

Taft like the Rock of Gibraltar, but for Kilkenny cats it has no respect. What sort of a face will these men put on, who have been fighting the primary jury when they come before that jury for its verdict? Men who have a contempt of the public had better not come before the public. Men who respect not the popular verdict, had better not seek that verdict in their own behalf as the honest respect for the people is a lesson to learn.

Wausau Record-Herald: Men sometimes think they are self-made, but self cannot make the opportunities nor environments nor does it create the talent which successful men use to reach their goal. A man may assist by energy and persistence, but he does not constitute the whole thing. It takes but a puff of wind to blow his castles down and himself into the hereafter.

Fond du Lac Commonwealth: In spite of the discomfort felt in certain quarters President Taft will return to Washington with a grip on the heart of the American people, such as it has been the lot of few men to enjoy. His sincerity, his honesty, his determination to shatter sham, expose graft and administer the affairs of the nation in a businesslike, statesmanlike way, have made him the man of the hour.

Oshkosh Northwestern: The Merrill Herald contends that the cost of living today is lower than it has been for the past thirty years—at least the editor declares this is his personal experience in the matter. If he could convince others that this is really true for Merrill, however, there would be such a rush to live in that city that it would soon become the state metropolis.

Milwaukee Free Press: In a word, President Taft has at heart the best interests of conservation, and because of that he cannot permit their being put in jeopardy through overzealous and lawless methods. He will seek to bulwark the Roosevelt policies with law and then bring about their fruition. It was just for this, that he was elected.

Evansville Review: Another society woman kills herself. Not even autos, elks and satins, trips to Europe for the glory of the Great White Way in many cities, satisfied Mrs. Jane Gordon Perlin of Philadelphia. A bullet in her head ended it all. The little rich haven't brains enough to see the simple life, so words are wasted on them.

Cambridge News: Some idea of the extent of the automobile business may be had by the statement that over sixty millions of dollars was paid last year for gasoline for their use alone. Kansas papers relate how in whole communities of farmers in that state an automobile is owned by nearly every farmer. It must be difficult to find one at home in such communities.

Waukegan Index: Advertising at this day and age is worth cash, if it is worth anything, and while the index would like to have helped to advertise the county "pumpkin show" for a reasonable consideration, we do not want the job of rendering $10 or $20 worth of service for a $1 worth of complimentary tickets. We prefer to let the same old gang run the same old show, and come out with the same old deficit.

Neenah Times: The farmer is so prosperous that the census bureau wants him to start figuring up his wealth right away, so he can have it done by next year.

Green Bay Gazette: The state fair management should be up-to-date and set aside one day during the week to be known as "politician's day." The majority of them in the state would be there to help make it a success.

Oshkosh Northwestern: People who live in snow houses should not throw hot water. This is the new usage that has been launched to apply to the Peary-Cook controversy.

Evening Wisconsin: If women is to have a buttonless dress, why can't man have a buttonless collar?

Fond du Lac Reporter: The man who makes mistakes is better than the fellow who never does anything.

Wausau Record-Herald: Even so soon as we are wondering how we could have concluded at the heat last summer, I read in no country in winter that the natural kind, free of expense, is highly thought of now.

Green Bay Gazette: News reports state that scores of women are endeavoring, some of them successfully, to kiss Cook. Many another man will wish now that he had also made a trip to the north pole.

Menasha Record: If S. A. Cook should become a candidate it is very evident he has a handicap from the fact that he does not live in Oshkosh.

Heart to Heart Talks.

THE POWER WITHIN.

Tired of the stories of successful men?

Well, here is the outline of one about a successful girl.
Ten years ago Mabel Sturtevant of Brookfield, Mo., was an ordinary school-girl of sixteen.

That is to say, she was in appearance an average girl of rather poor farmer folks. But she had a tremendous desire to make something of herself.

Largely by her own efforts she went through the University of Missouri, winning all sorts of prizes for scholarship, by the way. She also studied law and was admitted to the bar.

Which attainments would satisfy most girls desiring to distinguish themselves.

But last year Mabel Sturtevant won the crowning triumph. She was awarded the Dean prize as the best student of the universities of America and Europe.

Won by a girl, mind you, "self made" over all the young men.

That victory gives her about $3,000 a year to be used in traveling and observing the educational systems of the world.

And now this former girl of Missouri has started on her tour of the world, one of the most distinguished women in the world of education.

How did she do it?

Just as any man would succeed along the same line—by ability for study and determination to win.

Thanks to our educational system—a system less than fifty years old—this girl had the same chance to educate herself as any boy.

And she relied on herself.

That tells the story. You can educate yourself only by yourself, of your self and for yourself.

Modern psychology has revealed the wondrous possibilities of the human will. The desire to do, persistently kept, backed by the will to do, gives the power to do.

Miracles aside, the mysterious and wonderful power within you can do anything you want to do.

It is the power within, mind you.

And just here is the mistake of the girl or boy who says: "I have no chance. There is no one to help me."

Mabel Sturtevant had no better opportunity than other girls of poor parentage. She had no one to help her.

She helped herself!

And that is what you must do, my girl or boy.

Eighteenth Century Dames.

An wife, theologian, politician and writer, the women of olden times and fifty or sixty years ago were certainly in advance of those of today; yet apparently they had no wish to push man from his proper place. They held no anti-matrimonial views. They made good mothers, they were excellent housewives, they were socially charming, they managed to be personally attractive. In many directions they had the advantage of us.—Lady's Pictorial.

Weak Eyes.

If your eyes are weak and are easily tired when reading and sewing, it probably means that your general health is below par. A nourishing diet and plenty of sleep, combined with exercise in the open air, are important. When you must work rest your eyes occasionally for a few minutes at a time, and always work in a good light—in daylight if possible.

His Recommendation.

An old negro, applying to a former employer for a letter of recommendation, said: "Don't put it down that I been livin' here all my life, an' ain't been lynched yet!"—Atlanta Constitution.

Expert Service

There are times when people seek and demand expert service. In emergency cases the best skill obtainable is none too good. Or in ordinary work especial care is desired.

If you are in trouble with your teeth, I offer you the benefit of all I have learned in 20 years of active experience up against hard propositions.

I seem, somehow, to get the most difficult cases in my line of work. I am suspicious that others refuse to tackle these cases and so they come to me.

I'm willing to have it so. If your teeth troubles are bad cases, just bring them to me. I will not disappoint you.

CALENDAR CALLED AT FOUR O'CLOCK

Judge Grimm Returned to Jefferson Last Evening—City Attorney Seeks to Dissolve Injunction.

The call of the circuit court calendar for the October term, at four o'clock yesterday afternoon, showed 27 jury cases for trial, 25 issues of fact, and one issue of law for the court.

Olo Benson and Joe Clement of Detroit, the sons of a native of Norway, and Fredrick William Hanson of Evansville, a native of Norway, were admitted to citizenship.

An application of City Attorney H. L. Mayfield, Judge Grimm issued an order directing C. B. and C. W. Jackson to show cause why the temporary injunction issued by Court Commissioner M. P. Richardson and restraining the city from removing the obstructions to an open thoroughfare along the line of Garfield avenue, from Court street to Milwaukee avenue, should not be dissolved. The case will be heard by the court on the morning of October 11. The Messrs. Jackson maintain that they never dedicated the strip of land in question for highway purposes, while the city attorney, in his answer, alleges that it was graded according to instructions furnished by the city engineer in 1904; has been used as a public highway ever since; and that no objection was ever made until the council, about the middle of last August, ordered a sanitary sewer laid there.

Judge Grimm went back to Jefferson last evening and will not return here until Monday when the jurors are to put in an appearance.

Treat in Store For You!

Because the poet's themes were of universal interest, his humor and pathos for all people of all times, there is a treat in store for everybody at the Congregational church Tuesday evening, October 12, when Dr. David Newton, lecturer in general literature at the University of Chicago, will deliver his famous lecture on "The Genius and Poetry of Robert Burns." Dr. Newton is recognized as the most gifted interpreter of Burns and the Scotch life and character in America today.

Epworth League Lecture Course. The purpose of the modern lecture course is now so well known that few words are needed in its re-statement. It's aim and function being to present distinguished people who stand for something definite and important in the world of art, letters and achievement.

The following talent has been secured and a glance will prove that the highest quality in each sphere of accomplishment is the result. The course will open with the Commonwealth Ladies' Orchestra of Boston, Mass., the most famous female orchestra in the world. This orchestra is made up of ten ladies, all of whom are qualified to play solos on their own individual instrument. The orchestra will be assisted by Miss Lottie McLaughlin, soprano soloist, and Mr. Ashton Lewis, musical conductor and violin virtuoso. This will be one of the finest orchestras which has ever appeared in Janesville.

The second number of the course, Dr. Miller, needs no introduction to a Janesville audience, having appeared here a number of years ago. Mr. Miller has just concluded his 18th consecutive year on the famous Cincinnati Unity Course before one of the most excellent audiences in America. The citizens of Janesville will be glad to know Mr. Miller is to return to them.

Following comes a number which will be hailed with delight by all lovers of good band music, Victor and his Venturian band of 26 pieces, assisted by Miss Caroline Lewis, contralto. One of the special features of the number will be selections by the brass Sextette and Saxophone Quartette.

Following comes one whom Janesville will be delighted to hear. Mrs. Bertha Kang Hager, who is the greatest dramatic reader before the public at the present time, will appear as the fourth number of the course. Mrs. Hager will read "The Servant of the House," the play which made such a big success both in New York as well as Chicago.

In the fifth number the committee have contracted Hon. Judge George D. Alden. To say that they have made a ton-trick goes without saying to all who know Mr. Alden. Last winter Judge Alden appeared upon the Oshkosh Y. M. C. A. as well as Platteville, Wis., courses and these two courses were compelled to return him for 1909-10.

Central Grand Concert Company. The four stars who make up this attraction are of world-wide reputation. The company is composed of Maximilian Dick, violinist; Miss Edith Adams, violinist; Miss Margery Knowles, pianist; and Mr. Adolph Kruener, pianist. Every one of the numbers will be included in every program, a special feature of each will be the concerted numbers in which the full strength will be engaged.

The price of season tickets shall be as follows: Season reserve ticket, 50c; course, $1.50; season ticket not reserved, $1.00; single reserves, 25c. Single admissions shall be 75c reserve and 50c not reserved.

G. G. Krostson of Cambridge is a visitor in Janesville.

A. S. Flagg was here from Edgerton today.

J. Hagkart of Beloit transacted business here this morning.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Married in Epst: Arthur Whidish was married September 27 to Mrs. Lockwood in New York city.

Meet Wednesday: The mothers' meeting in charge of the W. C. T. U. will be held at the Mary Kimball mission at 3 p. m. Wednesday. These meetings are interesting, instructive and entertaining and though well attended there are still many women who would feel well repaid for attending. Wednesday's program is as follows: Devotional—Mrs. O. W. Athan; Song; Subject—"Teaching Self-Control"; Discussion led by Mrs. Collingsworth; Whistling Solo—Mrs. Bowditch.

To Play University Eleven: Ralph Tippet, a former Janesville boy, now of Appleton, will play with the Lawrence college football team against the University of Wisconsin eleven next Saturday.

Auto Party Here: Rudolph Hokenan, Howard Coasthans, manager of the Madison baseball team, and Harry Shensby of the State Journal, were over night Janesville visitors, coming down in Mr. Hokenan's auto. They returned today.

History Class Met: Work for the coming year was outlined at a preliminary meeting of the Twentieth Century History class held at the home of the president, Mrs. Frank Hodge, yesterday afternoon. The names of seven new members were added to the roster.

Buyers W. H. Greenman Home: Charles Gage has purchased the residence of W. H. Greenman on Court street, the deal being closed this morning.

Madam at Theatre: While the performance was in progress at the Myers theatre last evening some party, possibly in a spirit of mischief, moved two of the original water-color plates for "The Prince of Tonight" from the large frame that has been exhibited in the entrance-way. Unless the pictures can be recovered the frame is absolutely ruined for exhibition purposes, as they cannot be replaced. It is to be hoped that the guilty person will think better of this act of vandalism which deprives the show management of a unique and valuable device for heralding its attraction, and return the missing paintings.

Up for Drunkenness: William Schultz of Lavallo, Wis., and Rudolph Scholtz of Lavallo, Wis., charged with drunkenness in municipal court this morning and paid fines and costs amounting to $3.10 each. David Cunningham was sentenced to spend five days in the county jail and pay a fine and costs of $3.10 with the alternative of five additional days. Patrick Goodman was given a five day jail sentence with a provision that it might be suspended if he should take the pledge.

Edgerton Prisoners: City Marshal Philip Welch of Edgerton arrived here this morning with Edward Waltrath and A. Hanson of Stoughton in tow. The two prisoners will spend five days in the county jail for drunkenness.

BIG CROWD ATTENDED OPENING OF THE WEST SIDE RINK LAST NIGHT

Good Music, a Perfectly Level Floor And a Fine Attendance Mark Season's Opening.

Standing room behind the railings at the West Side rink last night was at a premium, while many of the spectators who would have liked to have gone on the floor were disappointed as the supply of skates was almost exhausted. From the size of the crowd and the excellence of the skating surface, it would seem that the rink would be a very popular place this winter. Manager Connors has expressed the intention of making the Janesville rink equal to any in the state, and if a smooth floor, high class skates, good music and courteous attendants can do this, the local rink will flash well up in the first division.

When on Tour.

Papa—"Ah, my boy, the old days were the best! Then we did our courting, walking in the country lanes, gathering buttercups and daisies." Son—"Why, pop! We go courting in the country lanes just the same today; only instead of walking we go in autos, and instead of gathering daisies we gather momentum.—Town and Country.

HUNDRED MILE TRIP ON TOMAHAWK RIVER

Was Thoroughly Enjoyed by Judge Field, Edward Behrendt, John Harlow and Lawrence Doty.

Judge Charles L. Field, Edward Behrendt, John Harlow, and Lawrence Doty returned yesterday from a two weeks' outing in the northern part of the state. About ten days was devoted to a canoe trip down the Tomahawk river in Oneida county, from its sources to the mouth, and the balance of the time was taken up with expeditions on Lake Kawasago and neighboring bodies of water. The light frosts had transformed the foliage into the most exquisite panorama throughout the trip. There was good pile fishing in the pools below all the rapids on the Tomahawk and the partridge were uncommonly plentiful in the woods. The lakes, however, were all "in blossom" with the green seeds from the water plants and no success whatever attended the "muskie" fishing. At Lake Kawasago the party stopped with Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bradley, former Janesville residents who are now conducting a little farm and boarding house not far from Minocqua. Mr. Bradley is agent for the Standard Oil Co. throughout the region and his good wife, who was formerly Miss Minnie Jones, and Mrs. Frank Heywood and Mrs. and Mrs. William Eldridge have also been guests at their place within the past few weeks and Mr. Eldridge has become infatuated with the country and purchased a tract of land near "the Point."

DEAF MUTES PLAY HIGH SCHOOL HERE

Delavan State School Eleven Meets Janesville Players in First Home Game Saturday.

Next Saturday afternoon the first game of the Janesville high school eleven on the home grounds will be played with a team from the State School for Deaf Mutes at Delavan. The game will be a unique one and an interesting one as well, as the mutes are good at entertaining a crowd and to their method of giving signals. Delavan played the Whitewater Normal a 6-to-5 game last Saturday, and from this it would appear that they are stronger than the Bowyer City players. The boys, however, are hoping to get sufficient practice between now and then to gain the additional strength needed to defeat Delavan. The game will be called at two o'clock and will probably be played at Athletic Park.

MISS CARRIE NELSON TO GIVE UP PLACE

Third Grade Teacher at Douglas School Forced to Leave on Account of Ill Health.

Miss Carrie Nelson, who for a few years past has been teacher of the third grade at the Douglas school, has been forced to give up the school work and has resigned from the teaching force of Janesville. Ill health is the cause of Miss Nelson's departure and in hopes of improving she will leave immediately for the south to recuperate if possible. Miss Nelson has been an efficient, faithful worker and her presence will be missed from the school. In her place the Board of Education have secured Miss Grace Johnson of Manitowish. Miss Johnson is a graduate of the Oshkosh Normal school and is at present teaching at Oshkosh. She will take charge of Miss Nelson's work next Monday.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY WILL BE VERY BUSY

First Hearings of Term Under New Inheritance Law in Judge Sale's Court.

Today was term day in the county court and one of the first hearings under the inheritance law as amended was held before Judge Sale. First Assistant Attorney General A. C. Titus of Superior was present to represent the state in the matter and examined the accounts which were filed for the different estates now in the process of settlement.

Under the inheritance law as amended by the last legislature the amount of the tax has to be given to the attorney general in order that he may have a chance to object to the amount of the estate as filed if in his judgment an attempt is being made to evade the tax.

The attorney general also holds that under the amended law the district attorney should examine these accounts of executors and administrators and should personally examine under oath the parties in the matter and report as to whether, in his opinion, the proper and just amount of the tax is paid. This means an immense amount of work for the district attorney if the ruling is insisted upon. In fact, in this county, he would have time for little else.

Those who doubted the statement that two crops had been raised and took the trouble to investigate found out that no deception had been practiced, but that the facts given in the Gazette of Sept. 27 were entirely correct. An added proof, Mr. Zastoupel last night brought a peck of potatoes to this office, part of which had just been dug and the others had

When They Meet.

THIS North Pole controversy, so far as I can make it out," said the venerable old gentleman in one of the corner seats of the street car, "is confined to the newspapers. I know both Peary and Cook. They are both gentlemen. Neither would say a word to hurt the other's feelings. It was a mistake that both should go up to find the Pole when they did. I am sure that either one would have waited a couple of years had the other asked him to."

"Then you don't think this thing will make hard feelings between the two explorers?" was asked.

"Not in the slightest, sir. They will, of course, meet sooner or later. It will probably be on the street. As they approach each other they will lift their hats. Then they will shake hands, and Mr. Cook will say:

"Hello, Peary—glad to see you, old man."

"Hello, Cook—I'm delighted."

"And so you found the Pole, too?"

"Yes. You got there a few minutes ahead of me, but you won't crow over that."

"Of course not. Honor enough for both of us. If I'd only known you were around I'd have begged a little. Great old Pole, isn't she?"

"You bet. Got anything on hand for next year?"

"Nothing of account."

"Then let's go down and discover the South Pole in company."

"I'll do it."

"And the two loving brothers will lock arms and walk away together," concluded the venerable old gentleman, "and the newspapers that have been publishing all these stories of hard feelings will find themselves exposed to the public as failures."

Indian Uprising Denied.

Keep Your Books Balanced.
Hetty Green advises women who have bank accounts to keep their accounts balanced and know where they stand. Always try to have a bank account, no matter how small, for there is more respect for the woman who pays with a check than for one who pays with currency. Be careful about signing checks and even more careful about indorsing checks for other people.

Useful Hint.
A blank book for addresses is invaluable in every family. Into it is copied the post office address of the people with whom you have business dealings, as well as that of relatives who are not regular correspondents. Then, when mother is away there is no commotion over a lost address, as the book in the desk gives the desired information. Leave two or three lines under each entry for corrections, alterations and memoranda.

Home of the Wild Bee.
A wild bee's home, as we all know, serves the purpose of a storeroom as well as of a place for the young to grow and develop. The entrance used by the bees is often very small, but always leads into a large room. The wax for their honey and brood cells is the only thing in the least like furniture which they require. The firmer and more bare the walls and floors, the better for them.—St. Nicholas.

Flyology.
The pesky fly makes you swear by crawling, crawling everywhere. He wipes his feet upon the bread, and creeps about your hairless head. Within the milk he takes a bath, and in the butter makes a nest, and then he angers Mary Jane by speckling up the window pane, and mamma yells and baby sobs because he leaves those awful germs. Get out the sticky paper, quick, or make him go awfully sick!

Swinging Along in the Same Old Way

The recent sale was a tremendous success, did just what we wanted it to do: REDUCE STOCKS, giving us more room to display our large fall and winter purchases. ANOTHER THING, it brought The Big Store into great prominence and furnished an object lesson to hundreds of people, newcomers, that to stay away from The Big Store was to miss seeing the lion's share of the desirable DRY GOODS, CURTAINS, READY-TO-WEAR GARMENTS and FLOOR COVERINGS to be found in Southern Wisconsin. It opened people's eyes to the great buying possibilities. It made us many new customers.

FALL BUYING HAS BEGUN. Wise ones will supply their needs as early as possible for there is sure to be a scarcity of merchandise later on, as the country is very prosperous, which means an enormous demand from all sections and even now is overtaking the capacity of mills everywhere, not only in our line but in every line.

Store Filled to Overflowing With New Season's Goods

The magnificent styles which you will see here—the wonderfully large assortments and broad varieties which greet you at every turn—tell the story of our effort to make this helpful store more helpful than ever—of our ambition to give our customers the choice of the choicest goods and to provide the very best possible values.

We're proud of our present showing and urge you to come now and pass judgment on our styles, our qualities and our prices—now when we are appearing at our best—now when everything is new, fresh and most desirable from every viewpoint. We say we can serve you best—let us prove to you our ability to do so.

New Apparel

Resplendent with new models in suits, coats, skirts and waists—is our ready-to-wear department. Not a shading of color—not a size nor quality, but what is represented in this splendid stock. If you want the most approved style and the rarest quality you must come to this store. No season has demonstrated this fact more forcibly than the present one. Stocks are now at their best.

Silks and Dress Goods

As an authority for fine silks and dress goods this store is probably as widely known as any other establishment in the whole state. It wants for nothing to make it complete and comprehensive. If it is a new and desirable effect in silk or dress goods you seek this store has it and you'll find it priced as low, if not lower, than it is priced elsewhere.

Trimmings

The very height of perfection has been reached in assembling these magnificent laces and trimmings for Fall and Winter dress decorations. From Occident and Orient, from every nook where fashion shines we have brought to you exquisite laces and trimmings. There are no finer conceptions anywhere for none finer are created; and the broadness of the assortment is all you could wish.

Floor Covering

None but floor coverings of merit are found here. We take particular pains in selecting our carpets and rugs. Only the choicest colorings and designs find a place in our stock. And what a stock! You'll travel far before you'll meet with one as large and comprehensive. Buying in large quantities we are enabled to quote unusually low prices.

Draperies

The new designs in curtains and draperies are more numerous than ever, consequently our stock is larger than it has ever been. No matter what may be your requirements in this line we are well able to satisfy you—satisfy you in style—satisfy you in quality—satisfy you in price. A half hour spent in this section will surely convince you that it is here that you should buy your draperies.

Accessories

This store has never slighted the detail of dress and therefore the little niceties of style which every woman loves are given as much consideration as the finished costumes themselves. In gloves, in beautiful ribbons, in neckwear and veilings; in jewelry, and other needs, this store is ever forward, ever at its best.

This Sharp Weather Draws Attention to Furs

If you desire safety in furs—come here. There is nothing people buy of which they know so little, as furs. You can tell whether a piece of silk is fine and good—whether a yard of dress goods is all that it is said to be—but who knows all about furs.

There are many tricks in the fur trade. They're glossed over with a color that will last but six months or more—blended and dyed and sold for what they are NOT—until very few know what they are paying for. The only way to be certain is to buy at a store so careful about its statements and dealings that you are just as safe in buying furs as in buying suits or coats.

This Is the Stove That Pays For Itself In the Coal it

This magnificent heater does as much work with one ton of coal as the ordinary stove with two.

It has a grate that clears out ashes and clinkers without wasting any live fire or unburned coal.

It has special machine-fitted tight door and damper that give perfect control of the fire.

It will hold fire for days without attention during mild weather. But during severe weather when you want heat the SPLENDID STEWART will give more for a ton of coal than any other stove made.

Monroe, Wis., Oct. 5.—Ulrich Schar, the fumes of gas while at work in the gasoline storage pit at his home, and was only saved from death by the timely arrival of a boy who had been man was in danger, he hurried back to the store for help. He quickly re-

"Did you ever meet Lady Maud?" he inquired, speaking to Krallinsky. "Which Lady Maud?" asked the foreigner in his rather oily voice. "There are several."

"Countess Leven, who was Lady Maud Foxwell," explained Mrs. Rushmore.

Krallinsky turned quietly to her, his single eye fixed and glittering. "No," he answered. "I know poor Leven well, but I was never introduced to his wife. I have heard that she is very beautiful."

"You say you knew the late Count Leven?" observed Mrs. Rushmore, with an encouraging and interrogatory smile.

"Intimately," answered Krallinsky with perfect self-possession. "We were in the same regiment in the Caucasus. I dare say you remember that he began life as a cavalry officer and then entered the diplomatic. Gifted man, very," the Russian added in a thoughtful tone, "but no balance! It seems to me that I have heard he did not treat his wife very well."

Mr. Van Torp had met several very cool characters in his interesting and profitable career, but he thought that if the man before him was Leven himself, as he seemed to be, he beat them all for calm effrontery.

"Were you ever told that you looked like him?" asked Mr. Van Torp carefully.

Even at this question Krallinsky showed no embarrassment.

"To tell the truth," he replied, "I remember that one or two in the regiment saw a slight resemblance, and we were of nearly the same height, I should say. That when I last saw Leven he did not wear a beard."

At this point Lady Maud came in quietly and made directly for the vacant place. The two men rose as soon as she appeared, and she found herself face to face with Krallinsky, with the table between them. Their eyes met, but Lady Maud could not detect the slightest look of recognition in his. Van Torp introduced her, and also watched his face narrowly, but there was not the least change of expression, nor any quick glance of surprise.

Yet Krallinsky possibly did not know that Lady Maud was on the yacht, for he had not been told previously that she was to be of the party, and in the short conversation which had preceded her appearance, no one had actually mentioned the fact. She herself had come to dinner late with the express purpose of presenting herself before him suddenly, but she had to admit that the intended surprise did not take place.

She was not astonished, however, for she had more than once seen her husband placed in very difficult situations, from which he had generally extricated himself by his amazing power of concealing the truth. Being seated nearly opposite to him, it was not easy to study his features without seeming either to stare at him rudely or to be bestowing more attention on him than on any of the others. Her eyes were very good, and her memory for details was fair, and if she did not look often at his face, she watched his hands and listened to the intonations of his voice, and her conviction that he was Leven grew during dinner. Yet there was still a shadow of doubt, though she could not have told exactly where it lay.

She looked to lead him into a trap by asking some question to which if he were Leven, he would know the answer, though not if he were any one else, a question to which he would not hesitate to reply unhesitatingly if the answer were known to him. But Lady Maud was not ingenious in such conversational tricks, and could not think of anything that would do.

The outward difference of appearance between him and the man she had married was so small that she could scarcely see how sworn in evidence that Krallinsky was not, and her husband. There was the beard, and she had not seen Leven with a beard since the first months of her marriage four years ago, when he had cut it off for some reason known only to himself. Of course a recollection, already four years old, could not be trusted like one that dated only as far back as three months; for he had left her not long before his supposed death.

There were the hands, and there was the left hand especially. That might be the seat of the doubt. Possibly she had never noticed that Leven had a way of keeping his left little finger almost constantly crooked and turned inward as if it were lame. But she was not sure even of that, for she was not one of those people who study the hands of every one they know, and can recognize them at a glance. She had certainly never watched her husband's as closely as she was watching Krallinsky's now.

Margaret was in the best of spirits, and talked more than usual, not stopping to think how Van Torp's mere presence would have chilled and silenced her three or four months earlier.

On the whole it was a gay dinner, and Mrs. Rushmore and Krallinsky knew that it was a very good one, and told each other so afterward as they walked slowly up and down the great promenade deck in the starlight. For people who are very fond of good eating can chatter pleasantly about their food for hours, recalling the recent delights of a perfect chaudi-froid or a faultless sauce; and it was soon evident that there was nothing connected with such subjects which Krallinsky did not understand and appreciate to the rules of the great Marie-Antoine Carême and Brillat-Savarin's "Physiologie de l'Art de la Cuisine."

Krallinsky also knew everybody. Between gastronomy and society, he appeared to Mrs. Rushmore to know everything there was to be known.

Lady Maud caught snatches of the conversation as the two came near her, and then turned back; and she remembered that Leven used to talk on the same subjects with elderly women on whom he wished to make a pleasant impression. This voice was his, too, and yet she knew she had a doubt somewhere, a very small doubt, which it was a sort of slow torture to feel was still unsatisfied.

Mr. Van Torp sat between her and Lady Margaret, while the two others walked. The deep-cushioned straw chairs stood round a low fixed table on which there had been coffee, and at Margaret's request the light had been put out, though it was only a small, opalescent one, placed under the awning about the wheel-house and bridge.

"We must be going very fast," said Lady Maud, "for the sea is flat as a millpond, and yet there's a glare as soon as one gets out of the lee of things."

"She's doing 22, I believe," replied Van Torp, "and she can do 23 if pressed. She will, by and by, when she gets warmed up."

"Where are we going?" Margaret asked. "At this rate we are sure to get somewhere!"

"I don't know where we're going, I'm sure," the millionaire smiled in the gloom. "But as you say, it doesn't take more than five minutes to get somewhere in a ship like this."

"You must have told the captain what you wanted him to do! You must have given some orders!"

"Why, certainly. I told him to look around and see if he could find another yacht like this anywhere in the Mediterranean. So he's just looking around, like that, I suppose. And if he finds another yacht anything like this, we'll see which of us can go first."

"You see I don't know anything about ships, or where to go, so I just thought of that way of passing the time, and when you're tired of rushing about and want to go anywhere in particular, why, I'll take you there. If the weather cuts up we'll go in some where and wait, and see things on shore. Will that do?"

Margaret laughed at the vagueness of such a roving commission, but Lady Maud looked toward her friend in the starlight and tried to see his expression, for she was sure that he had a settled plan in his mind, which he would probably put into execution.

She rose. "Do you mind very much if I go to bed. I'm rather sleepy after the journey. Oh, I mustn't forget to tell you," she added, speaking to Margaret, "I always lock my door at night, so don't be surprised if you want to come in and talk when you come down just call, or knock, and I'll let you in directly."

"All right," Margaret answered. Lady Maud disappeared below, leaving the two together, for Mrs. Rushmore and Krallinsky had found a pleasant sheltered place to sit, further aft, and the Count was explaining to the good American lady the delicious Russian mysteries of "Borscht," "Shnitzel," "Kasha," and "Smolyany," after a telling unapproachable favor of frothing sturgeon's roe, and explaining that "caviare" is not at all the Russian name for it and is not even a Russian word; and Mrs. Rushmore listened with intense interest and stood up for her country, on a bank of Blue Point oysters, planked shad, canvas-backs, and terrapin done in the Philadelphia manner, which she maintained to be vastly superior to the Baltimorean; and each listened to the other with real interest.

Van Torp and Margaret had not been alone together for five minutes since they had left Bayreuth on the previous day, but instead of talking, after Lady Maud was gone, the prima donna began to sing very softly and beautifully—nothing grand nor very difficult; not the waltz-song that had made her famous, nor the "Good Friday" music which she could never sing to the world, but sweet old melodious songs she had learned when a girl; Schubert's "Serenade" and "Ave Maria," and Tosti's "Malia," and then Beethoven's "Adelaide," and Van Torp was silent and perfectly happy, as well he might be.

When she bid Van Torp good-night she pressed his hand frankly, as she had never done before, but he took no sudden advantage of what he felt in her touch, and he returned the pressure so discreetly that she was almost disappointed, though not quite, for there was just a little something more than usual there.

She did not disturb Lady Maud, either, when she went to her cabin, though if she had known that her beautiful neighbor was wide awake and restless, she would at least have said good-night and asked her if she was still so very tired.

But Lady Maud slept, too, at last, though not very long, and was the only one who appeared at breakfast to keep Van Torp company, for Margaret slept the sleep of a slinger, which is deep and long as that of the healthy dormouse, and Mrs. Rushmore had her first tea and toast happily in her cheerful surroundings of pink and gilding. As for Krallinsky, his man informed Stemp and the chief steward that the count never thought of getting up till between nine and ten o'clock, when he took a cup of chocolate and a slice or two of sponge cake in his own room before dressing. So Lady Maud and Van Torp had the yacht to themselves for some time that morning.

determinedly, Ernest De Koven Leffingwell is accomplishing results in the Arctic region. His work is not so spectacular as that of the heroes of the hour, Dr. Cook and Commander Peary, but he is working just as energetically and diligently and with just as definite an aim. He is a young American with blue blood and is at the prime of his life. He equipped his own expedition and last year set out on a 4,000-mile trip from here with a small staunch boat, "The Arctic," and four men. Leffingwell has had scientific experience to give weight to his Arctic explorations and it is in the interest of science and geographical investigations in the Polar regions that he has devoted his life. He was graduated from Trinity college, Hartford, Conn., and the University of Chicago, during the Spanish war he served on the Oregon and not long after became a member of the Baldwin-Ziegler Arctic expedition. In 1907 he and Capt. Egnar

Mickelson headed another Polar quest in search of a small continent which both believed existed beyond the Arctic circle. The trip was perilous, their boat was ground to pieces, and they were given up for dead before they finally triumphed and got in touch with the living world. Mr. Leffingwell immediately set out to head another expedition of his own to complete the nature studies. No one knows when he will return, but he is not expected back for at least three years more.

OCCIDENT FLOUR

Guaranteed the Best in the World

That doesn't mean much when you read it in an advertisement. But use one sack. It will mean everything to you then. There is only one reason why Occident Flour is not used by every woman in her baking: Because there are some who don't realize the vast difference between Occident and ordinary flour. They think they are all alike—that the one you get used to is the one you like best. That proves they have never used Occident. The difference shows in the baking. No matter what kind of flour you are using now—give Occident a chance to show what it can do. You'll be nothing out if you don't like it.

Read This Fair Offer:

Go to your grocer's and get a sack of Occident Flour. Use as much of it as you please. Before the sack is gone, you will be convinced that Occident is better in every way than any flour you ever used—gives better and surer results with bread, biscuit, muffins, pastry—all your baking. If you are not—then, go back to your grocer. He is authorized to refund without argument the full purchase price of any package of Occident which you do not find satisfactory.

There's a Logical Reason for this Difference

You pay a few cents more per sack for Occident. You don't think much about that when you buy it—but it means everything to the millers. That "few cents extra" in price enables them to raise the standard of Occident Flour to "highest grade in the world"—from wheat to packages.

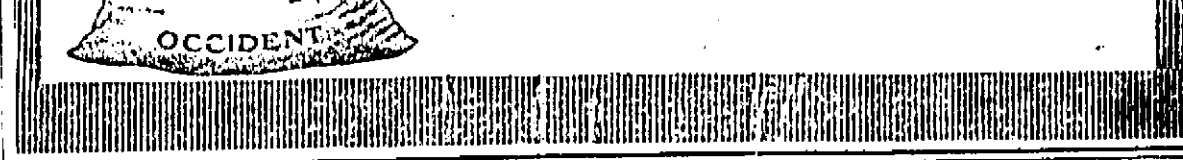

Better wheat—better mills—better processes—better millers—more rigid and more frequent tests—even better sacks for protection in shipping and handling. Occident Flour sacks alone cost $25,000 a year more than ordinary flour sacks.

Occident Flour is worth the difference in price many times over—the millers prove that before it leaves the mills. You prove it in the results of your baking.

A trial sack for next baking day means less work—better baked stuff.

Why not call up the grocer now?
